Abstracts

A golfer needs golf equipment like golf clubs and golf balls to take part in the sport. Since golf bags are very heavy, golfers use caddies to carry their bags, which contain golf equipment (made of heavy metal). Sometimes caddies do not handle the golf bags properly and misplace the equipment in the golf course. Moreover, their services are expensive and turn out to be a huge investment for golfers. Considering these challenges, some of the vendors have come up with innovative products that can replace these caddies.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Golf Push and Pull Cart in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. One driver in the market is premiumization through product innovations. Premiumization through product innovation is driving The global golf push and pull cart market. In the past, golfers had to carry their golf clubs manually in bags or had to use caddies. The golf push cart has replaced caddies. Push carts facilitate mobilization of golf clubs, balls, and other things required in the golf court. Vendors are introducing new technologies in their products to gain market share and increase consumer base. Remote control battery-based carts are recognized as premium carts because of their high cost.

The European market dominates the golf push and pull cart market and is expected to have revenues of USD 350 million and higher by the end of 2020. Europe has around 7,403 golf facilities spread across 40 countries. Moreover, there has been an increase in the number of registered golfers in this region will has been driving demand for golf carts over the years. Germany, the Netherlands, and France have been exhibiting highest growth in the demand for golf equipment in this region.

The worldwide market for Golf Push and Pull Cart is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
