Abstracts

The global High-End Pet Toothbrush market size is expected to reach $ 169 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 6.9% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

In 2025, global production of high-end pet toothbrushes reached 8.6 million units, with an estimated average selling price of $12 per brush. High-end pet toothbrushes refer to high-value-added toothbrush products designed for frequent home oral care for dogs and cats, veterinary-recommended care, or mid-to-high-end pet consumers. They surpass ordinary pet toothbrushes in brush head angle, bristle softness, ergonomic handle, pet adaptability, replaceable brush heads, electric/ultrasonic cleaning, low noise, vibration-free operation, and the availability of dedicated toothpaste. The upstream of the industry chain mainly includes ultra-soft bristles, food-grade silicone, PP/ABS/TPR materials, bamboo handle materials, micro motors, ultrasonic transducers, lithium batteries, charging bases, replacement brush heads, injection molds, tufting equipment, packaging materials, and matching pet toothpaste; the downstream includes pet owners, veterinary clinics, pet hospitals, pet supply chains, high-end pet stores, e-commerce platforms, and cross-border e-commerce. Gross profit margins range from approximately 40% to 60%.
