Abstracts

The global Home Services Franchise market size is expected to reach $ 13081 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 4.8% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

Home Services Franchise refers to a franchise business model in which a franchisor licenses its brand, operating system, training, and support to franchisees that provide services for residential homes such as repair, maintenance, improvement, restoration, cleaning, lawn care, or related household services.

The global home services franchise market is a substantial and rapidly growing sector experiencing a fundamental shift. Once dominated by traditional food and retail concepts, franchising is now seeing its fastest growth in service-based, essential industries. The market is characterized by strong recession resilience, driven by demographic trends, an aging housing stock, and a growing skilled trades workforce.

The home services franchise market operates within the broader home services industry, which is a multi-hundred-billion-dollar sector. The franchise component is a significant and growing portion of this market.

The global home services franchise market is on a robust growth trajectory, driven by powerful macroeconomic and demographic tailwinds. The sector's strength lies in its recession resilience, the shift toward a skilled trades workforce, and the unprecedented demand from an aging housing stock. Franchise models are evolving, with multi-brand platforms leading the way, and technology is transforming operations from customer acquisition to service delivery.

This report studies the global Home Services Franchise demand, key companies, and key regions.
