Abstracts

The global Individually Packaged Disposable Toothbrush market size is expected to reach $ 1030 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 6.1% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

In 2025, global production of individually packaged disposable toothbrushes reached 4.157 billion units, with an estimated average selling price of US$0.16 per brush. Individually packaged disposable toothbrushes are oral hygiene products designed primarily for single or limited use. They typically have handles made of plastics such as PP/PS/PLA/PBS or bamboo/wood/paper-based composite materials, and are equipped with nylon, PBT, or biodegradable bristles. They can be bundled with small tubes of toothpaste, pre-applied toothpaste, individual packaging bags, cardboard boxes, dental floss, mouthwash, etc., to form a dental care set. Individually packaged disposable toothbrushes emphasize low cost, lightweight design, hygienic individual packaging, bulk supply, and convenient usage scenarios. They are primarily used in hotels, airlines, travel, healthcare, elderly care facilities, schools, prisons, emergency kits, offices, and portable retail settings. The upstream sector mainly includes PP, PS, PLA, bamboo and wood materials, nylon/PBT bristles, toothpaste, aluminum-plastic/paper-plastic packaging, color boxes, printing consumables, and automated bristle implantation, injection molding, and filling packaging equipment. The midstream sector involves toothbrush injection molding/bamboo handle processing, bristle implantation, bristle trimming and rounding, toothpaste filling, individual packaging, and kit assembly. The downstream sector is concentrated in hotel groups, airlines, healthcare institutions, supermarkets and convenience stores, and e-commerce platforms.
