Abstracts

Catalyst is mainly used for oil refining, chemical processing and in emission control markets. Catalyst is a substance that speeds up the rate of chemical reaction without itself being affected in it.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Industrial Catalysts in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. Owing to the factor that almost all industrial chemicals processes are catalytic, the significance and economical importance of catalysis is vast. Catalytic petroleum refining processes provide very high quality fuels which cope up with the strict and mandated fuel specifications and the deteriorating characteristics of crude oils of sulfur gravity. Moreover, industrial catalysis also economically exploit the unconventional heavy crudes and the use of renewable raw materials with the production of biofuels. Industrial applications of catalytic processes concerns the large areas of the hydrocarbons conversion into intermediates and final product. Catalysis has reached a significant degree of maturity pertaining to industrial applications.

The worldwide market for Industrial Catalysts is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
