Abstracts

The global Insurance Company Tax Services market size is expected to reach $ 1374 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 6.7% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

Insurance company tax services refer to a professional tax service system provided by professional service agencies, tax advisors, accounting firms, law firms, and tax technology platforms to insurance companies, reinsurance companies, captive insurance companies, mutual insurance organizations, health insurance companies, life insurance companies, property insurance companies, and cross-border insurance operators. This service focuses on corporate income tax, premium tax, insurance premium tax, state and local taxes, reinsurance transaction tax, insurance product tax, transfer pricing, tax filing, tax accounting, tax planning, tax audit response, tax dispute resolution, and tax data management arising from insurance business activities. Its key function is to assist insurance operators in completing tax calculations, declarations, reviews, record-keeping, risk identification, and dispute resolution under environments with multiple regions, products, tax types, reporting cycles, and high regulatory requirements. It also supports insurance groups in making tax decisions regarding cross-border underwriting, reinsurance arrangements, mergers and acquisitions, captive insurance arrangements, and product innovation.
