Abstracts

Inulin is a slightly sweet carbohydrate that has certain beneficial properties. It is classified as a fiber because it passes through the digestive tract without being metabolized until it reaches the colon. Unlike cellulose fiber (bran etc.) it is a soluble fiber. Inulin comes from a natural source and occurs in a large variety of plants, where it plays an important biological role as reserve carbohydrate. Inulin has been part of our daily diet for hundreds of years, as you find it in many fruits and vegetables, such as bananas, onions, and wheat. When extracted from chicory roots, inulin can be successfully used as a beneficial ingredient in many food applications.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Inulin in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

Inulin industry is a concentrated market with a few leading companies take a majority of the market share. In 2016, the top three producers, which are Beneo, Sensus, Cosucra account for 81.77% of the market. Europe is the major production zone of inulin, followed by China and South America. Beneo alone take nearly 45.11% of the whole market with its major production sites locate in Belgium and Chile. The other two leading companies Sensus and Cosucra are all set their production in Europe. Europe is the major consumption region of inulin, with market share of 68.87% in 2016. North America and China are also important consumption regions of inulin.

The major applications of inulin are food & beverage, dietary supplements, pharmaceutical, etc. Food & beverage is expected to remain the largest application segment over the forecast period owing to gaining importance of functional ingredients for improving gut health function and reducing sugar level. The markets of dietary supplements, pharmaceutical are also in fast growing due to growing attention to healthcare.
