Abstracts

The global Managed Security Services (MSS) market size is expected to reach $ million by 2029, rising at a market growth of % CAGR during the forecast period (2023-2029).

In recent years, major security incidents such as cyber extortion, phishing attacks, and data theft have occurred frequently. At the same time, the technology and means of network attacks are also constantly evolving, making traditional security defense measures less effective. Therefore, it is imperative to build a normalized and practical security operation system. In this context, the development of Managed Security Services (MSS) plays an important role. Through Managed Security Services (MSS), enterprises can comprehensively improve their security defense capabilities, respond to security threats in a timely manner, protect information assets, and ensure continuous and secure business operations.

Managed security services (MSS) provide cybersecurity services to organizations. MSS vendors help monitor and manage security systems, devices, and Software as a Service (SaaS) applications. Organizations can outsource overall security responsibilities or specific tasks to a team of experts, located in-house or in a remote location.

MSS vendors provide around-the-clock monitoring and management of tools like firewalls, intrusion detection systems (IDS), and endpoint detection and response (EDR). They can oversee patch management and upgrades, perform security assessments and audits, and respond to security incidents.

This report studies the global Managed Security Services (MSS) demand, key companies, and key regions.
