The global Mattress Packing Machine market size is expected to reach $ 2316 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 4.9% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

A mattress packing machine is an automated industrial device designed to compress, roll, vacuum-seal, or wrap finished mattresses for storage and transportation. It is widely used in mattress manufacturing and home furnishing production facilities. The machine uses mechanical, hydraulic, or pneumatic compression systems to reduce the mattress volume, and then seals it with plastic film or composite packaging materials to minimize shipping costs, improve storage efficiency, and protect the product during transit. Depending on functionality, mattress packing machines include compression machines, roll packing machines, vacuum packing machines, and fully integrated automatic packaging lines. Modern systems often feature automatic feeding, film sealing, cutting mechanisms, and intelligent control systems, making them suitable for memory foam, spring, and hybrid mattresses in large-scale production environments.

In 2025, global mattress packing machine production reached approximately 80000 units and average price was 20000 usd/unit, with gross margin 40%.

This report studies the global Mattress Packing Machine production, demand, key manufacturers, and key regions.
