Abstracts

According to our latest research, the global Media Audio and Video Editing Services market size will reach USD 4693 million in 2031, growing at a CAGR of 10.3% over the analysis period.

Media audio and video editing services refer to the provision of full-process content processing and optimization services such as video editing, audio mixing, special effects addition, subtitle dubbing, format conversion, etc. for radio and television, film and television production, self-media, e-commerce live broadcast and other fields. This type of service can be completed through professional studios, or remote and collaborative content production can be achieved with the help of cloud platforms and AI tools to meet the needs of diversified content and fast-paced dissemination.

With the rise of new media forms such as short videos, live broadcasts, virtual humans, and AI synthetic content (AIGC), audio and video editing services are developing towards intelligence, automation, and efficiency. Technologies such as AI editing, automatic subtitles with voice recognition, background noise reduction, and intelligent lens recognition are rapidly popularizing, allowing non-professional users to create content efficiently. At the same time, the industry's demand for personalized and high-quality visual performance continues to rise, driving editing services to evolve towards the integration of 'customization + intelligence'.
