According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Media Coding Service market size was valued at USD million in 2023 and is forecast to a readjusted size of USD million by 2030 with a CAGR of % during review period.

Video encoding is the process of compressing and potentially changing the format of video content, sometimes changing an analog source to a digital one. In regards to compression, the goal is so that it consumes less space. This is because it's a lossy process that throws away information related to the video. Upon decompression for playback, an approximation of the original is created. The more compression applied, the more data is thrown out and the worse the approximation looks versus the original.
