Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Medical Express Service market size was valued at US$ 1899 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 3278 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 8.2% during review period.

Medical Express Service is a time-critical, specialized logistics solution within the medical supply chain, designed for ultra-fast delivery of urgent, life-saving, or time-sensitive medical items?such as emergency pharmaceuticals, diagnostic samples, surgical equipment, or critical medical devices?with strict adherence to healthcare safety, temperature control, and regulatory standards. It prioritizes minimizing delivery time (typically same-hour, 2-hour, same-day, or next-flight-out for cross-regional/global) while maintaining the integrity of medical cargo, serving as the emergency arm of medical supply delivery for healthcare facilities, patients, and public health systems.

Distinct from regular medical supplies delivery (which focuses on scheduled, bulk, or routine shipments) and general courier express, medical express service is tailored exclusively to healthcare?s urgent needs: it combines express logistics speed with medical-grade handling (e.g., cold chain, sterile packaging, HAZMAT compliance) and 24/7 operational capacity for emergencies like trauma care, pandemic outbreaks, or last-minute surgical needs.
