Abstracts

The global Membrane Filtration market size is expected to reach $ 11870 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 5.9% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

Membrane Filtrations or 'membranes' are polymer films with specific pore ratings. Membranes retain particles and microorganisms that exceed their pore ratings by acting as a physical barrier and capturing such particles on the surface of the membrane.

The Membrane Filtration industry has many manufacturers in the world, and high-end products mainly from U.S. and Western European. Veolia and DuPont are the top 2 players of Membrane Filtration, with about 25% market shares. Membrane Filtration can be divided into the following categories, reverse osmosis membrane, microfiltration membrane, ultrafiltration membrane and nanofiltration membrane, of which, reverse osmosis membrane is the most important type of application, accounting for 42% of the global membrane separation market. This proportion is higher in underdevelopment areas such as China. The key consumption markets locate at Asia Pacific. Asia Pacific takes the market share of 45%, and Europe is with 26%. North America market takes about 19% of the global market.

In recent years, there are several companies in the market whose dynamics are worth noting, such as:

DuPont Water Solutions acquired Inge GmbH in 2020, and then consolidated ultrafiltration technologies under the new IntegraTec™ brand (Inge®, Memcor®, and DuPont Ultrafiltration), and plans to spin off the water tech business in 2026.

In 2021, Microdyn-Nadir was renamed MANN+HUMMEL Water & Fluid Solutions.

In 2022, SUEZ Water Technologies was acquired by Veolia and is still included in the Veolia Water Technologies & Solutions (VWTS) business.

In 2023, Koch Separation Solutions was acquired by Sun Capital Partners and renamed Kovalus Separation Solutions.

3M spun off its health care business in 2023 and became an independent company Solventum.

This report studies the global Membrane Filtration production, demand, key manufacturers, and key regions.
