Abstracts

Modified silicone fluids are silicone fluids with additional functionality beyond the already fine properties of common dimethyl silicone fluid. This is achieved through the introduction of various organic groups. Depending on the organic group, silicone fluids can be given properties of water-solubility, compatibility or reactivity with various organic materials, paintability, and greater lubricity.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Modified Silicone in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. Modified silicone fluids are silicone fluids with additional functionality beyond the already fine properties of common dimethyl silicone fluid. It can be divide into reactive silicone fluid and non-reactive silicone fluid according to types. Reactive silicone fluid is the main type and in 2016 it takes about 80% of global sale volume. And according to application, it can be used into coating, performance additive, construction and consumer care. Now performance additive is the main application, which owns 40.23% of all application. North America and Europe are the main consumption regions, which take 32.58% and 28.00% in 2016, respectively. Although the share in China is relatively small compared to North America and Europe, the demand in China will be huge in the furture for there is largest population country in the world.
