Abstracts

Multiplex Biomarker imaging is an exceptional technique for imaging the characteristic and analysis of the correct disease. Biomarkers are the biological markers that are utilized in the clinical studies in order to visualize the current stage of the disease. The biomarker has an important use in the medical industry, the biomarker can be used alone or as a combination for assessing the characteristics and evaluate as an indicator of biological processes. Multiplex Biomarker plays a vital role in order to study the biological system which is quite complex by providing the analysis to check the expression of several biomarkers.
