Abstracts

A typical automotive brake system or braking system comprises of a brake device having different components, which are used for slowing or stopping down a vehicle. More precisely, these devices decrease or stop the speed of a moving or rotating body by absorbing kinetic energy mechanically or electrically.

SCOPE OF THE REPORT:

This report focuses on the Brake System in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. Brake market is segmented on the basis of product into disc brake and drum brake. Disc brake uses a pair of calipers to squeeze against a disc to create friction that reduces the speed of the vehicle in motion whereas the drum brake is a brake in which brake shoe presses against the inside of a drum on the wheels. Disc brakes are preferred in commercial vehicles only in Europe. Elsewhere, Disc brakes are used in passenger vehicles.

Automotive brake system market is expected to witness substantial growth over the forecast period on account of growing automotive industry particularly in developing economies of the world. Furthermore, increasing concerns over safety resulting in government mandates to improve the vehicle safety is expected to drive demand over the next seven years. Growth in the automotive brake industry would primarily be led by the passenger car segment and commercial vehicle segment.

The worldwide market for Brake System is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 3.1% over the next five years, will reach 13000 million US$ in 2023, from 10800 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
