Abstracts

Calcium chloride (CaCl₂) is a salt, appearing as a white crystal. It is commercially available as anhydrous and dihydrate flakes, pellets and powder, or as a 30–45% solution. Calcium chloride is produced by refining naturally occurring brine, by neutralizing hydrochloric acid with limestone, or as a by-product from the Solvay process of synthetic sodium carbonate (soda ash) production. The major applications for calcium chloride include road deicing, dust control, and oil extraction and completion fluids.

SCOPE OF THE REPORT:

This report focuses on the Calcium Chloride (CaCl₂) in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. In the coming years there is an increasing demand for Calcium Chloride worldwide. Increasing of downstream industry fields expenditures, more-intense competition, launches in introducing new products, increasing of spending on general industry, retrofitting and renovation of old technology, increasing adoption of Calcium Chloride will drive growth in global markets.

Globally, the production of Calcium Chloride is not concentrated, as the development and manufacturing technology is not high. Currently, Asia Pacific is the largest production region of Calcium Chloride, mainly benefited by the low labor and raw material cost.

The consumption volume of Calcium Chloride is related to downstream industries and global economy. As there will be many potential market for Calcium Chloride, the prospect of Calcium Chloride is still be full of hope.

The product average price declined in the past few years due to the technology development, the average price will keep the trend in the few future years due to increasing mature manufacturing technology and lowering cost of raw materials. Although the market competition of Calcium Chloride is fierce globally, there are many enterprises can obtain considerable profit form the manufacturing and marketing of Calcium Chloride and that is the reason that we believe there will also be enterprises enter this market. But it is suggested that enterprises those have plans to enter this industry have careful analysis of this market and the advantages or disadvantages of themselves.

The worldwide market for Calcium Chloride (CaCl₂) is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 4.0% over the next five years, will reach 1430 million US$ in 2023, from 1130 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
