A self-balancing scooter or self-balancing two-wheeled board, commonly referred to as a 'hoverboard', is a type of portable, rechargeable battery-powered scooter. They typically consist of two wheels arranged side-by-side, with two small platforms between the wheels, on which the rider stands. The device is controlled by the rider's feet, standing on the built-in gyroscopic, sensed pads.

SCOPE OF THE REPORT:

This report focuses on the Hoverboard Scooters in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

US is the largest consuming market, which accounts for more than 80% market share in terms of sales in 2015. With the strict regulation, the US market fell a lot in 2016, but we believe the potential market in USA is still huge.

China is the global main manufacturer base, especially in Shenzhen and Zhejiang. China is the first manufacturer of a mature hoverboard product. In the long term, China will continue to be the most competitive production base for the hoverboard scooter industry. More strict industry standards will help for a better competitive background. It's expected that UL certification will foster more connections between the distributors and small manufacturers.

Although sales of hoverboard scooter products bring a lot of opportunities, the study group recommends the new entrants who just have money but without quality management understanding and industry support not enter into the hoverboard scooters industry hastily.

The worldwide market for Hoverboard Scooters is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 12.3% over the next five years, will reach 1210 million US$ in 2023, from 600 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
