This report studies the Medical Adhesive Tapes market, Medical adhesive tape also known as surgical tape, medical adhesive tape is available in many different types for a variety of medical applications, including cloth, paper, waterproof, micropore, and pressure-sensitive.

SCOPE OF THE REPORT:

This report focuses on the Medical Adhesive Tapes in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

For industry structure analysis, the medical adhesive tapes industry is fragmented. A variety of manufacturers ranging from large multinational corporations to small privately-owned companies compete in this industry. The top six producers account for less than 40% of the market. Regionally, USA is the biggest production country of medical adhesive tapes, also the whole industry. Europe and China also produce large amount of medical adhesive tapes per year.

For production, the global production of medical adhesive tapes has reached 6888 M Sq.m by the end of year 2017, with CAGR around 4.43% during the past years. The capacity expansions in developed areas are much modest, while production developing areas like China are a little higher.

For price trend analysis, a key variable in the performance of medical tapes producers is raw material costs, specifically the speed at which any increase can be passed through to customers. The price of the major raw material nonwoven and plastics varies according to the crude oil price. Also, competition landscape of product is relevant to the price trend.

The worldwide market for Medical Adhesive Tapes is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 2.7% over the next five years, will reach 13000 million US$ in 2023, from 11100 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
