Abstracts

Fresh foods generally consist of natural antioxidants. Natural antioxidants help in the removal toxic and harmful substances from the human body. As they are stable and are chemically free radicals, they do not give out electrons. Antioxidants are known for converting harmful toxins into products that are harmless and are given away from the body in the form of waste products. They also help in preventing the body from oxidation which damages the cells by releasing free radicals. Natural antioxidants rich food also helps in the prevention of cancer and acts as anti-aging mediums. They further reduce the threat of heart diseases by substantially absorbing the bad cholesterol present inside the body. Natural antioxidants are widely found in a variety of natural sources such as spices, herbs, meat, fruits, and plants.
