Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global λ -Carrageenan market size was valued at US$ 30.87 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 46.05 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 5.9% during review period.

λ -Carrageenan is a natural polysaccharide extracted from specific species of red seaweed, primarily of the genera Gigartina or Chondrus crispus. Chemically, it is characterized by a high sulfate ester content (approximately 32% to 39%) and the absence of the 3,6-anhydro-D-galactose bridge within its repeating galactose units. This structural configuration is the primary reason why λ -carrageenan is non-gelling regardless of concentration, distinguishing it from the κ and ι types. Instead, it offers superior cold-water solubility and functions primarily as a potent thickener and protein stabilizer. Due to its unique pseudoplastic flow behavior, it imparts a creamy, fat-like mouthfeel to food systems. It is extensively utilized in the dairy industry (such as in UHT milks and infant formulas), sauces, and frozen desserts to prevent syneresis and enhance overall textural stability.

In 2025, global λ -Carrageenan production reached approximately 1500 MT, and average price was 20000 USD/MT.

This report is a detailed and comprehensive analysis for global λ -Carrageenan market.
