Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Office Afternoon Tea Delivery Service market size was valued at US$ 3144 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 5057 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 7.0% during review period.

Office afternoon tea delivery services refer to the regular or on-demand delivery of tea, coffee, fruit, snacks, and beverages to corporate offices. These services are typically handled by professional catering companies or delivery platforms, which handle the procurement, packaging, and delivery. This service not only provides the food needed for daily tea breaks but also allows for customized tea sets and themed menus based on corporate culture, employee preferences, or special events. The aim is to enhance employee welfare, improve the work experience, and promote team interaction and corporate culture building. Service formats include scheduled delivery, event-based customization, long-term subscriptions, or online ordering, covering the entire process from ingredient procurement and hygiene and safety management to final delivery.

As companies increasingly prioritize employee care and the work experience, the market demand for office afternoon tea delivery services continues to grow. On the one hand, companies enhance employee satisfaction, motivate teamwork, and improve their brand image by providing afternoon tea and tea breaks. On the other hand, with the increase in flexible work arrangements, shared workspaces, and the number of SMEs, on-demand and subscription-based delivery services are gaining popularity.

Furthermore, the trend towards healthy, nutritious, and personalized tea breaks is driving service innovation, such as low-sugar snacks, organic beverages, and themed tea break solutions. In the future, office afternoon tea delivery services will develop towards standardization, digital management, and diversified product portfolios, with significant market growth potential, especially in urban office areas in North America, Europe, and the Asia-Pacific region where demand is strong.
