Abstracts

The office supply industry comprises revenues brought about by the retailing of office supplies in stores that primarily operate in selling these products. Items in the office supply market include paper, pencils and pens, business forms, stationery, storage containers and other forms of office equipment. Also included in this market are wholesalers offering paper, stationery, and office supplies for purchase. The predominant products in the office supply industry are office paper, labels, greeting cards, and general office supplies; combined, these items account for over half of the overall revenue for the market. Large retailers of office supplies purchase their stock specifically from manufacturers.

Scope of the Report:

The degree of business activity drives the demand for the office supply industry. Competition in this market is steep due to online retailers, warehouse clubs, and supercenters. Larger companies have the ability to provide a wide range of products to the same consumer. Smaller businesses make providing specialty products and excellent customer service their priorities. Individual companies focus on devising superior merchandising tactics, as well an effective delivery system in order to generate profit.
