Organic Certified Cosmetic refers to beauty and personal care products that meet recognized organic standards for ingredient sourcing, processing, and formulation. These products emphasize traceable natural ingredients, limited synthetic inputs, and compliance with certification requirements, making them important in premium skincare, personal care, and clean beauty markets.

The industrial chain of Organic Certified Cosmetic includes upstream certified botanical ingredients, plant oils, bio-based additives, emulsifiers, packaging materials, and certification services. Midstream covers formulation, blending, filling, packaging, documentation, and compliance management. Downstream applications mainly include skincare, haircare, personal hygiene, specialty retail, e-commerce, and premium beauty channels.
