According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Palletizer market size was valued at USD 796.4 million in 2023 and is forecast to a readjusted size of USD 1076.7 million by 2030 with a CAGR of 4.4% during review period.

A palletizer or palletiser is a machine which provides automatic means for stacking cases of goods or products onto a pallet.

Manually placing boxes on pallets can be time consuming and expensive; it can also put unusual stress on workers. The first mechanized palletizer was designed, built, and installed in 1948 by a company formerly known as Lamson Corp. There are specific types of palletizers including the row-forming which were introduced in the early 1950s. In row-forming palletizing applications loads are arranged on a row forming area and then moved onto a different area where layer forming takes place. This process repeats until a full layer of goods and products are configured to be placed on a pallet.

Global Palletizer key players include FUNAC, Fuji Yusoki, ABB, KUKA, YASKAWA, etc. Global top five manufacturers hold a share over 40%.

Europe is the largest market, with a share over 25%, followed by North America and Japan, both have a share over 35%.
