Paper cloth is wallpaper whose raw material is paper. In Europe and the United States, there are many paper cloth wallpapers made from pulp, while in Japan, vinyl cloth wallpapers are more common. Paper cloth is classified into Western-style cloth, Japanese-style cloth, and non-wood, paper cloth. In addition to these, there is also synthetic paper with a film-processed surface.

Paper cloth can be used as a paper material to enhance the packaging of Japanese and Western confectionery shops and sake breweries because it can produce a unique depth of color and a texture like real cloth or leather, which is difficult to express through printing. Foil stamping can be used to create a sense of luxury.

Paper cloth has been attracting attention in recent years because of its environmental friendliness. Its raw materials are natural and gentle to the indoor environment, and it can be used for finishing office and office walls. Increasingly, it is also being used for bedroom walls.
