PET matte silver paper, also known as matte silver PET adhesive label paper, matte silver dragon label paper, etc., is a polymer material. The basic material of PET matte silver paper is polyester film (PET), which is a plastic material with high strength, high modulus, and low density. Its surface is treated with special technology to form a uniform matte silver coating, which not only gives the paper a unique matte silver color, but also enhances its waterproof, oil resistant, stain resistant, scratch resistant, high temperature resistant and other properties. PET matte silver paper is widely used in various special occasions. For example, it can be used to make phone battery labels, appliance labels, device labels, etc., which need to withstand certain environmental factors such as temperature, humidity, and chemical corrosion. In addition, PET matte silver paper can also be used in packaging materials, automotive parts, electronic and electrical components, and other fields.
