According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Pet Models market size was valued at US$ 2682 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 4687 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 8.4% during review period.

Pet models is an emerging profession that mainly involves allowing pets to show their cute and charming side in front of the camera and to publicize and promote various pet-related products or services.

Many pet owners, especially the younger generation, consider their pets as 'family members' or 'children.' They are willing to pay high prices for this emotional bond, just to capture their pets' adorable moments and preserve precious emotional memories. The role of pets in the family has shifted from the initial 'guardian' function to that of indispensable 'family members.' This 'family-like' trend is the fundamental driving force behind the emergence of services such as pet photography and pet modeling.

However, due to the high entry requirements for professional pet models?requiring both physical appearance and skills?the number of high-quality models meeting market demands is limited. As an emerging field, some training methods may not be scientifically sound or standardized. Furthermore, the low entry barriers for photographers within the industry and the inconsistent service levels have, to some extent, affected the healthy development of the industry.
