Abstracts

Adhesives are substances applied on one or both the surfaces to bind them together. They have replaced rivets, welded parts, and other mechanical parts in various equipment. Polyurethane adhesives reduce the overall costs of the entire manufacturing process. They exhibit superior product performance, are reliable, and increase the lifespan of the product. They are increasingly used in the automotive and transportation, furniture and woodwork, building and construction, electrical and electronics, footwear, and packaging industries. Polyurethane adhesives reduce the overall weight of the vehicle, thereby enhancing fuel efficiency.
