Abstracts

The global Pop-Up Camper market size is expected to reach $ million by 2030, rising at a market growth of % CAGR during the forecast period (2024-2030).

A pop-up camper, also known as a tent trailer, is a type of recreational vehicle (RV) that combines the features of a camper and a tent. It is characterized by a collapsible design that allows for easy storage and transportation while providing a comfortable living space when fully set up.

Pop-up campers typically consist of a rigid base with a collapsible upper section made of canvas or other durable fabric material. When folded down, they have a low-profile and compact form that can be towed behind a vehicle. Once at the campsite, the camper is unfolded or “popped up” to expand its living area.

Pop-up campers offer a balance between the comfort and convenience of an RV and the outdoor experience of tent camping. They are ideal for campers who want a more sheltered and comfortable sleeping arrangement but still want to enjoy the sights, sounds, and fresh air of the outdoors.
