Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Precious Metal Accounts market size was valued at US$ 14692 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 20677 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 5.0% during review period.

A precious metal account is a financial product that allows individuals and institutions to hold precious metals, such as gold, silver, platinum, and palladium, as an investment. These accounts are typically offered by banks, investment firms, and specialized precious metals dealers. Precious metal accounts are a specialized investment option that can be attractive to investors looking for a different form of wealth preservation or to diversify their investment portfolios. However, they require careful consideration of the risks and rewards involved, as well as a thorough understanding of the legal and tax implications.

Both the core account market and the wider management industry are propelled by similar forces:

Economic Uncertainty & Safe-Haven Demand: The primary driver is the search for stability during times of geopolitical tension, inflation, and market volatility. This pushes both retail and institutional investors towards gold and silver accounts as a store of value.

Digitalization and Accessibility: A major trend is the rise of digital platforms and fintech apps (like Revolut) that allow users to buy, sell, and hold fractional amounts of precious metals with ease. This is democratizing access, bringing a new generation of investors into the market.

Innovation in Asset Management: Technology is revolutionizing the sector. This includes regulated tokenization platforms, which turn physical metals into digital tokens for easier trading, and blockchain for tracking provenance. The integration of precious metals into traditional retirement accounts (like Gold IRAs in the U.S.) is also a significant structural driver.

De-dollarization & Central Bank Policy: A global trend of central banks diversifying reserves away from the U.S. dollar and into gold has built a strong structural foundation for long-term demand, reassuring retail investors about the asset's lasting value.

This report is a detailed and comprehensive analysis for global Precious Metal Accounts market. Both quantitative and qualitative analyses are presented by company, by region & country, by Type and by Application. As the market is constantly changing, this report explores the competition, supply and demand trends, as well as key factors that contribute to its changing demands across many markets. Company profiles and product examples of selected competitors, along with market share estimates of some of the selected leaders for the year 2025, are provided.

Key Features:

Global Precious Metal Accounts market size and forecasts, in consumption value ($ Million), 2021-2032

Global Precious Metal Accounts market size and forecasts by region and country, in consumption value ($ Million), 2021-2032

Global Precious Metal Accounts market size and forecasts, by Type and by Application, in consumption value ($ Million), 2021-2032

Global Precious Metal Accounts market shares of main players, in revenue ($ Million), 2021-2026

The Primary Objectives in This Report Are:

To determine the size of the total market opportunity of global and key countries

To assess the growth potential for Precious Metal Accounts

To forecast future growth in each product and end-use market

To assess competitive factors affecting the marketplace

This report profiles key players in the global Precious Metal Accounts market based on the following parameters - company overview, revenue, gross margin, product portfolio, geographical presence, and key developments. Key companies covered as a part of this study include ICBC, UBS, HSBC, Bank of China, China Construction Bank, OCBC, UOB, BullionVault, Revolut, EverBank, etc.

This report also provides key insights about market drivers, restraints, opportunities, new product launches or approvals.

Market segmentation

Precious Metal Accounts market is split by Type and by Application. For the period 2021-2032, the growth among segments provides accurate calculations and forecasts for Consumption Value by Type and by Application. This analysis can help you expand your business by targeting qualified niche markets.
