Abstracts

A prefabricated sauna room is a pre-built sauna structure that is manufactured off-site and then assembled at its final location. These sauna rooms are typically constructed using pre-cut panels made from materials such as wood, like cedar or hemlock, or modern materials like fiberglass or acrylic. Prefabricated saunas come in various sizes and designs, including traditional steam saunas, infrared saunas, and combination saunas. They often include features such as benches, heaters, lighting, and control systems for temperature and humidity.
