Investment and asset management services are a comprehensive professional financial service. At its core, it represents individual, family, corporate, or institutional clients in the systematic strategic allocation and full-process management of financial assets. Services encompass the entire process, from needs analysis, goal setting, and strategy formulation to specific asset allocation, portfolio construction, project selection and execution, and continuous performance monitoring, risk assessment, dynamic adjustments, as well as related tax planning and wealth transfer. Its fundamental goal is to achieve long-term preservation and appreciation of client assets and specific financial objectives through diversified investments across markets and asset classes, within acceptable risk levels. When services extend to the comprehensive financial situation of high-net-worth individuals, it is often more broadly referred to as 'wealth management,' emphasizing holistic planning.

The global asset management industry has a promising future and is undergoing profound transformation. The core drivers of growth include the continued growth of the global high-net-worth and ultra-high-net-worth population and wealth, the market demand for long-term institutional funds such as pension funds, and the service enhancement and efficiency revolution brought about by digital technology. Looking ahead, the industry will exhibit the following key trends: First, the digitalization and intelligentization of service models, with intelligent investment advisory and investment tools utilizing big data and artificial intelligence supplementing and even reshaping traditional services, enhancing personalization. Second, the evolution of investment philosophies, with sustainable investment adhering to ESG standards shifting from 'optional' to 'mainstream,' and the rise of impact investing. Third, the globalization and diversification of asset allocation, with the proportion of alternative investments continuously increasing in pursuit of excess returns. Fourth, the reshaping of the industry's competitive landscape, with traditional institutions, fintech platforms, and specialized boutique institutions competing and cooperating around comprehensive 'customer-centric' solutions. Overall, the industry is undergoing a comprehensive transformation from simple 'investment product management' to 'financial goal and wealth health management' covering the entire life cycle.
