Quartz sands/quartz grits/quartz slabs are materials related to quartz minerals. They are different forms and processed products of quartz minerals, with different characteristics and application fields.

The quartz sand is a natural ore composed of fine-grained quartz minerals, which has high hardness, high wear resistance and chemical stability. Quartz grits are coarse-grained particles formed by further processing of quartz sand, which have similar physical and chemical properties to quartz sand, but larger particles. Quartz slabs are quartz ores processed under high temperature and high pressure, which are denser in structure than quartz sand and quartz chips, and have excellent texture and physical properties.
