Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Retail Execution Software market size was valued at US$ 569 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 964 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 7.8% during review period.

Retail execution software is a type of digital tool for brand owners, fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) companies, and retailers, used to uniformly manage, monitor, and optimize products.

The widespread adoption of retail execution software stems primarily from the urgent needs of brands and retailers in a highly competitive and fragmented market environment for compliance of terminal displays, inventory visibility, promotional execution, and efficiency of frontline teams. Traditional methods relying on manual inspections and paper reports struggle to ensure consistency and real-time performance in store operations, leading to missed sales opportunities, inventory buildup, or stockouts. Meanwhile, the maturity of mobile internet, image recognition, and cloud computing technologies enables companies to collect real-time shelf status data through smart terminals, automatically verify display standards, and instantly trigger replenishment or rectification tasks. At the same time, consumers' expectations for an omnichannel experience are also forcing brands to strengthen the refined operation of their offline touchpoints.
