Abstracts

Enterprise content management (ECM) systems help companies organize, manage, and distribute unstructured content such as documents, images, health or accounting records, surveys, product information, emails, and web pages. Companies use this software to store, track, edit, and collaborate on content creation and other information-related projects, while maintaining predefined and appropriate security levels. Employees at every level of the organization can access and exchange information using ECM software based on user privileges assigned by a system administrator, which streamlines the lifecycle of information and automates various business processes using embedded workflow.

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Enterprise Content Management (ECM) System market size was valued at USD million in 2022 and is forecast to a readjusted size of USD million by 2029 with a CAGR of % during review period.
