Silver dressing is a type of wound care product that contains silver, which is known for its antibacterial properties¹²³⁴⁵. The silver in the dressing helps prevent the growth of bacteria and breaks down existing bacteria in the wound¹. Silver dressings are recommended for acute or chronic wounds with a high level of bioburden or local infection. The amount of silver released from the dressing depends on the amount of exudate and bacteria in the wound. Silver dressings can be used for up to 2 weeks at the first occurrence of infection, and clinicians should reassess the wound every 2 weeks until it is healed.
