Abstracts

The global Sober Beer market size is expected to reach $ 59940 million by 2029, rising at a market growth of 6.7% CAGR during the forecast period (2023-2029).

In recent years, the research on non-drunk beer has developed rapidly, with continuous technological innovation and production methods emerging. As it not only has the flavor of beer, but also has the advantages of drinking more and more, in line with the consumption trend of today's consumers increasingly pay attention to health, German scientists found that non-drunk beer can prevent blood clotting, reduce the risk of cardiovascular diseases such as thrombosis and myocardial infarction. Because platelet aggregation can lead to blood clots and heart attacks, the results suggest that regular beer, non-alcoholic beer and alcohol and water all have a protective effect against cardiovascular disease, the scientists said. In addition, women and men with alcohol allergy are fond of low alcohol beer, which has a great prospect of market development.

Sober beer is a new member of the beer family, belonging to the low alcohol soft drink beer. The so-called non-drunk beer, is not the real sense of the non-alcoholic. Generally speaking, the beer alcohol accuracy is generally 3%-5%. The international standard believes that the alcohol content is below 0.5%, and the beer with the color, flavor and foam characteristics of ordinary beer is not drunk beer.
