Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Sponge Clothes market size was valued at US$ 134 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 177 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 4.1% during review period.

In 2025, the global production of Sponge Clothes reached approximately 46.42 million square meters, with an average global market price of around US$2.8 per square meter. In the same year, the global total production capacity of Sponge Clothes reached 66.32 million square meters. The industry average gross profit margin of this product reached 15%. Sponge cleaning cloths are absorbent and flexible cleaning materials made from porous sponge foam, typically composed of synthetic polymers such as polyurethane (PU) or polyethylene (PE), or from natural sea sponges. They are designed to effectively absorb liquids, remove dirt, stains, and grease, and are often combined with textile layers, textured surfaces, or composite materials to enhance durability, friction, and cleaning efficiency. These cloths are widely used in household cleaning, industrial maintenance, and personal care applications, providing a balance of softness, resilience, and usability for a variety of surfaces.

The market for sponge cleaning cloths is expected to grow steadily due to increasing consumer demand for convenient, reusable, and eco-friendly cleaning solutions, as well as the expansion of industrial cleaning sectors. With rising awareness of hygiene and sanitation standards in households, healthcare facilities, and food processing industries, high-performance, antimicrobial, and biodegradable sponge cloths are becoming more popular. Technological innovations in composite materials and sustainable production methods are likely to drive further adoption, making sponge cleaning cloths an essential tool in both domestic and industrial cleaning applications.
