Abstracts

Squalane is of a molecular formula $C_{30}H_{62}$ and has a specific stereochemical conformation. Squalane is traditionally sourced from shark liver or refined olive oil. It is highly sought after by formulators, due to its emollient properties. It is a high-end moisturizing ingredient used as an emollient in cosmetics and other personal care products, and it is a high value, clear oil compound used in pharmaceuticals, specialty lubricants etc.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Squalane in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. The manufacturers are concentrated in Japan USA and Europe. Amyris is the largest manufacturer in the world, which production has reached 575 MT in 2015.

The consumption of squalane is mainly Europe, Japan and USA. Japan is the largest consumer in the world, which occupied about 35% in 2015. In Japan, squalane demand is relatively stable. With the restrictions of raw materials, the production of shark squalene will decline. At the same time, Europe and the United States consumption are growing rapidly.

The difficulties in raw material availability due to regulations and competition from other industries, minimal governmental support, and western cultural impact have restrained the companies from entering the market.

For the new investors, we recommend to increase R&D investment. Currently, phyto squalane is market mainstream products. In the future, synthetic squalane will be the future trend.

Under the background of slower economy growth rate, companies face the higher risks of profit decline. Currently, squalane market has a certain potential in Europe, USA. We believe that entering the Chinese market will be a good choice.

The worldwide market for Squalane is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 7.1% over the next five years, will reach 86 million US$ in 2023, from 57 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
