Stainless Steel Floor Sink is a floor mounted sink designed for commercial kitchens, laboratories, medical facilities and other environments. It is usually made of corrosion-resistant, stainless steel material, with extremely high durability and hygienic performance. It is designed to efficiently receive and discharge various wastewaters. It is usually installed on the ground with a deep trough and drain to clean dishes, clean equipment or treat industrial wastewater. Due to the corrosion resistance, high temperature resistance and easy cleaning characteristics of stainless steel, it has been widely used in food processing, medical and industrial cleaning. Not only can this sink maintain a high level of hygiene standards, but it can also withstand heavy usage loads, making it very suitable for environments with high frequency of use.
