Abstracts

The global Sunroof Repair and Replacement Service market size is expected to reach $ 2041 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 6.3% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

Sunroof repair and replacement service refers to the professional work done to restore or replace the sunroof of a vehicle. Sunroof repair and replacement service is essential maintaining the safety and functionality of a vehicle. These services ensure that the sunroof or panoramic roof functions correctly, provides a seal against the elements, and contributes to the overall safety and comfort of the vehicle. It's important to choose a reputable service provider to ensure the work is done correctly and meets all safety standards.

Growth is driven by rising installation of panoramic sunroofs, larger roof-glass panels, aging vehicle fleets, more complex electric sunroof mechanisms, weather-related leakage, accident damage, falling debris, vandalism and insurance-covered auto glass claims. Common service triggers include cracked or shattered glass, leaking seals, clogged drainage, stuck mechanisms, motor failure, track failure and wind noise.

North America and Europe are mature markets because of high vehicle ownership, insurance-backed auto glass repair networks, premium vehicle penetration and mature collision-repair channels. Asia-Pacific is the fastest-growing region because it has the largest new-vehicle production base and strong adoption of sunroofs in China, India, Japan and South Korea. Asia-Pacific's dominant share in the automotive sunroof market indicates that future aftermarket service demand will increasingly shift toward this region.

The market is fragmented. Participants include auto glass chains, dealership service departments, body shops, collision-repair centers, independent mechanics and specialized sunroof/roof-glass providers.

The main trend is the shift from small sliding sunroofs to large panoramic glass roof systems, especially in SUVs and EVs. This increases service value per repair but also raises complexity because roof glass, seals, motors, tracks, sensors and interior trim are integrated. Another trend is higher use of insurance and claims-management platforms for roof-glass replacement.
