Abstracts

Super-resolution microscopy is a form of light microscopy. Due to the diffraction of light, the resolution of conventional light microscopy is limited, as stated by Ernst Abbe in 1873.[1] A good approximation of the resolution attainable is the full width at half maximum (FWHM) of the point spread function, and a precise widefield microscope with high numerical aperture and visible light usually reaches a resolution of ~250 nm.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Super-Resolution Microscope in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. Super-Resolution Microscope industry has much fragmented, manufacturers are mostly in the Europe. Among them, Europe Production value accounted for less than 49.51% of the total value of global Super-Resolution Microscope in 2016. Leica Microsystems is the world leading manufacturer in global Super-Resolution Microscope market with the market share of 21.34% in 2016.

In the past few years, as the main raw material price was reduced, with the increasing in production capacity, expected that the Super-Resolution Microscope raw material price will be stable in the future. However, the improvement of energy, transportation costs, and labor costs, will play a significant role in promoting the cost of Super-Resolution Microscope.

The worldwide market for Super-Resolution Microscope is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 19.0% over the next five years, will reach 4730 million US$ in 2023, from 1670 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
