According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Surf Board Rentals market size was valued at US$ 633 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 953 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 6.1% during review period.

Surfboard rental refers to the short-term use of various surfboards and related equipment provided by professional vendors or clubs to individuals or groups in seaside tourist destinations or water sports settings. Users pay by the hour, day, or course cycle, and can participate in surfing without purchasing their own equipment. This model typically includes basic instruction, safety guidance, storage, and equipment maintenance services, making it an important business model for lowering the barrier to entry for surfing and promoting experiential consumption.

With the global recovery of seaside tourism and the continued rise in outdoor sports popularity, surfing, as a sport combining athleticism and lifestyle attributes, is rapidly gaining popularity, especially among young people and tourists. Meanwhile, surfing's inclusion in the Olympic system (such as the surfing competition at the 2020 Tokyo Olympics) has significantly increased its global attention. Furthermore, new forms such as electric surfboards and artificial wave pools have reduced geographical limitations, further expanding the demand for the experience. Against this backdrop, the rental model, due to its characteristics of 'low-cost trial + high-frequency tourism scenarios,' will continue to benefit, and is expected to maintain stable growth in coastal tourist areas such as Southeast Asia, Australia, Europe, and Latin America, while also extending to inland artificial wave pools.
