Abstracts

Termite control services are services related to management and regulation of myriad termites, which are harmful for human health. These services are designed specifically for eliminating tiny insects that dwell underground and damage walls and other household products, particularly the ones made from wood. Various types of treatments available for termite control include non-chemical treatments, chemical treatments, conventional barrier treatments, wood treatment, and termite baits.

SCOPE OF THE REPORT:

Termite control services providers are increasingly embracing adoption of smart techniques, which prevent costly infestations through sustainable solutions. Constant monitoring and instant reactive steps offered by such smart techniques has become a new focus area for termite control services providers to adopt. Providers who emphasize on the provision of intelligent, digital process-based termite control services, which facilitate detection of blind spots and around-the-clock surveillance, are likely to witness promising growth prospects in the foreseeable future.

The global Termite Control Services market is valued at xx million USD in 2017 and is expected to reach xx million USD by the end of 2023, growing at a CAGR of xx% between 2017 and 2023.
