Abstracts

The global Third-party Grading market size is expected to reach $ million by 2030, rising at a market growth of % CAGR during the forecast period (2024-2030).

Third-party grading refers to the evaluation and authentication of collectible items, such as coins, banknotes, trading cards, comic books, and sports memorabilia, by independent grading companies or services. These companies employ experts who assess the condition, authenticity, and quality of the items based on established grading standards and criteria. Third-party grading provides collectors, investors, and dealers with objective and standardized assessments, enhancing transparency, credibility, and confidence in the collectibles market.

This report studies the global Third-party Grading demand, key companies, and key regions.

This report is a detailed and comprehensive analysis of the world market for Third-party Grading, and provides market size (US$ million) and Year-over-Year (YoY) growth, considering 2023 as the base year. This report explores demand trends and competition, as well as details the characteristics of Third-party Grading that contribute to its increasing demand across many markets.
