Abstracts

The global Towel Disinfection Service market size is expected to reach $ 959 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 5.7% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

Towel Disinfection Service refers to professional cleaning and sanitization services for towels, using processes such as high-temperature washing, chemical disinfectants, or UV treatment to remove dirt, bacteria, and odors. It is widely used in industries with high hygiene requirements, such as hotels, gyms, salons, and healthcare facilities.

The towel disinfection service industry is undergoing multi-dimensional transformation, with higher hygiene standards emerging post-pandemic, driving industry standardization. At the same time, companies are adopting automated sorting, intelligent washing, and disinfection systems to improve efficiency and consistency. Environmental and energy-saving technologies are increasingly implemented to reduce water and energy consumption while minimizing environmental impact. Structurally, the industry is moving toward centralized and large-scale operations, with integrated “rental + cleaning and disinfection” service models gaining traction. With digitalization, technologies such as RFID enable full-process traceability, while demand from high-end hotels, salons, and fitness centers is driving the growth of customized, premium services.
