Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Urban Turf Insecticides market size was valued at US$ 1916 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 3213 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 7.7% during review period.

Urban turf insecticides are formulated crop protection products designed to control insects affecting turfgrass in urban environments, including residential lawns, public parks, golf courses, sports fields, and municipal green spaces. In 2025, the average global unit price of urban turf insecticides is approximately US$9,800 per ton, with global annual sales volume and production both estimated at around 0.19 million tons. The industry typically maintains a gross margin range of 35%–55%, driven by active ingredient innovation, formulation performance, regulatory compliance costs, and branding and distribution strength in professional turf management channels. The supply chain includes upstream active ingredients, solvents, carriers, surfactants, and formulation additives; midstream manufacturers focus on formulation development, blending, quality control, registration, and packaging; downstream users include landscaping service companies, golf course operators, municipal maintenance departments, sports facility managers, and professional turf care providers.
