Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Vegan Chicken Nuggets market size was valued at US$ 9261 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 14227 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 6.3% during review period.

Vegan chicken nuggets offer consumers a sensory experience similar to traditional chicken nuggets, fundamentally addressing the pain points of vegetarians, flexitarians, and health-conscious or environmentally conscious consumers who cannot enjoy the classic 'chicken' flavor and convenience. They also meet societal needs to reduce meat consumption to lessen environmental burden, avoid animal welfare issues, and mitigate certain health risks (such as cholesterol). It is a plant-based pre-processed food completely free of animal ingredients, simulating the texture, flavor, and appearance of chicken nuggets through a blend of plant proteins (such as soy, pea, and wheat proteins), oils, and seasonings. The upstream mainly includes major plant raw material suppliers (such as soybean, pea, and wheat growers and processors), food ingredient companies (providing specialized proteins, oils, seasonings, and binders), and packaging material suppliers. Downstream, it reaches end consumers through brand owners or retailers (such as supermarkets, health food stores, and food service providers). The core of its supply chain lies in food formulation research and development and advanced processing technology, transforming primary agricultural products into high-value-added, ready-to-cook or ready-to-eat end products, and distributing them through cold chain or ambient temperature logistics. In 2025, the production of vegan chicken nuggets is expected to reach approximately 600,000 tons, with an average price of approximately US$15 per kilogram, a gross profit margin of approximately 35%, and a single production line capacity of approximately 7,000 tons per year.
