According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Wide-Angle Video Conference Camera market size was valued at US$ 1228 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 2149 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 8.8% during review period.

Wide-Angle Video Conference Camera refers to a high-definition camera designed for video conferencing, remote collaboration, and virtual meeting environments, featuring a wide-angle lens that captures a broader field of view to include multiple participants and conference room details. These cameras are widely used in meeting rooms, classrooms, telemedicine settings, and hybrid office scenarios to enhance communication clarity and visual engagement. They typically support high-resolution video output, autofocus, and intelligent framing, and are deeply compatible with conferencing platforms such as Zoom, Microsoft Teams, and Webex. Key vendors include Jabra PanaCast, Logitech Rally, and AnyCo V8 All-in-One Conference Video Bar. In 2025, the global market size of wide-angle video conference cameras is approximately USD 1,193.7 million, with annual shipments of about 9.83 million units. The market is expected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of around 9.05% over the next five years. The average market price is approximately USD 121.4 per unit, typical single-line production capacity ranges from 28,000 to 125,000 units per year, and industry gross margins generally fall within the 24%–39% range.

This report is a detailed and comprehensive analysis for global Wide-Angle Video Conference Camera market. Both quantitative and qualitative analyses are presented by manufacturers, by region & country, by Type and by Application. As the market is constantly changing, this report explores the competition, supply and demand trends, as well as key factors that contribute to its changing demands across many markets. Company profiles and product examples of selected competitors, along with market share estimates of some of the selected leaders for the year 2025, are provided.
